Dear fellow printers,

I hope our latest newsletter finds yourselves and loved ones well, happy, rested and ready for more printmaking fun in 2019.

Since I last wrote to you, PAWA has done a lot of formal business and also had some memorable print and social experiences. I cannot possibly do justice to you all in these few words, so please know how much we appreciate you and your art even if your name is not specifically mentioned.

I welcome our new committee and thank past committee members for their service, in particular Hilda Klap who was awarded life membership at the AGM for her many years of outstanding work on our committee without break.

Our work with Wild Apricot and our web page continues with the goal of simplifying our administrative and operational process to leave us all more time to create art. As you know from our emails this year PAWA memberships are being renewed using this new approach.

We thoroughly enjoyed our patron Leon Pericles 'Just Scratching The Surface' retrospective show at Linton and Kay gallery. The opening was huge and his artists talk for our members a treat. (Some of the photos are in this newsletter).

Very kindly Leon has donated some copies of his beautiful book "Just Scratching The Surface" to PAWA. They are for sale at $100 per copy and proceeds will go to PAWA. Thank you Leon and Moira for the joy and expertise you have brought us over many years.

Our Christmas party at Tresillian Art Centre was a fun filled afternoon, and I would like to thank Tresillian staff for being so accommodating in assisting us to enjoy our festivities.

Our first exhibition opportunity for PAWA members in 2019 is in fact at Tresillian from 11th February to 8th March when PAWA will be the featured artist(s) of the month. This is a new format for the Tresillian exhibitions to showcase the studio tenants there. We plan to fill the walls with a fabulous array of prints.

Delivery of works will be in the weekend prior when we will be hanging our works.

Our opening event will be Friday 15th Feb from 6 PM to 8 PM, please join us if you can.

We now need to start to plan how many of your works we can show so it is time for details framed prints you would like to have included ready to send to us. These works may have been previously exhibited.

We hope to enjoy both you, your prints and your family at this event.

A big thanks to Clare McCarthy for agreeing to dazzle us all yet again with a fab newsletter. We are looking for a new Newsletter editor this year: maybe it's you?

I sincerely thank you all for your support and for being such an inspiring and interesting group.

Warmest Regards,

Elizabeth Morrison, PAWA President.

PS The upcoming PAWA Workshop, Monotypes with Bridget Seaton is now full. Thank you all for your interest. Look out for more PAWA workshops during the year.

Congratulations to PAWA member Elmar Steyn who was selected as a finalist in the recent Australian Print Triennial 2018 held at the Art Vault, Mildura, Victoria.

PAWA's 2018 AGM

Tresillian Arts Centre, Sunday 4 November 2018

Three committee members were farewelled at the AGM: Beth Porter, one of our Studio Coordinators; Clare McCarthy, recent Secretary and Newsletter editor and Hilda Klap who had many roles during her 30 years on the committee including as Secretary and President. At the AGM Hilda was honoured with PAWA's first life membership. Joining the committee we have Haya Cohen as Secretary and Caroline Harte as Treasurer. Thank you all for volunteering and contributing to PAWA's success.

Membership Renewal

This year membership renewals are being processed using our online administration system called Wild Apricot. As a PAWA member you will have been sent an email about accessing and updating your own membership details. Click on the link provided in the email. In a separate email you will have received an invoice with options for paying your membership.

Membership renewals are due 1 February. A form is available in this newsletter if needed but we prefer you to follow the process online as this reduces the amount of time the Committee spends on this process. Please renew your membership soon and do email admin@pawa.org.au if you haven't received these emails or need more information.

PAWA Studio Exhibition: enter by 11 January

PAWA is beginning its busy year with an exhibition at the Tresillian arts centre February 11th - March 8th. Every studio at Tresillian will be the focus of an exhibition this year. This is different to the pop ups held previously and includes an opening event on Friday 15 February 6 to 8pm. Do join us for this!

Please submit your entry details by January 11th 2019. You need to include the title, print practice, and size for each work. To do this you need to log in to PAWA on Wild Apricot (as you did to renew your membership). You will have received an email on 15 December with the subject Event Announcement: PAWA Studio Exhibition. Click the register button on the email. Or go to our website www.pawa.org.au. If you have any questions email PAWA.

Artists will be notified by January 25th of their successful selection and will be notified of the date for delivery of works to Tresillian. We remind artists that the Tresillian art gallery takes 30% commission on the artwork's sales.

Can you help?

As you know PAWA is run by a committee of volunteers. If you're interested in getting involved you can always help out at our events or you could consider taking on a specific role. (Usually people in these roles are committee members but that is not essential). PAWA is looking for the following:

Studio Coordinator: The focus of this role is keeping our studio in great shape for members to enjoy. The Coordinators also manage the studio bookings and introduce new PAWA members to the studio.

This role is shared with Rosemary Mostyn, our very knowledgeable, long serving Committee member. Having two coordinators works well and Rosemary would love to discuss what's involved in this vital role.

Newsletter editor: The newsletter comes out 6 times a year. The editor works the PAWA committee who help with content and proofreading. It is created using MS Office (Word, Publisher) so it's not too complicated. Two people could possibly share the task: one responsible for content and one for formatting/design. Clare McCarthy who has been the editor since 2017 would be happy to discuss the role with you. Get in touch with PAWA if you can help with this or with content for the newsletter.

PAWA Skill Share Saturdays

Skill Shares are for PAWA members only but you are welcome to bring a friend so they can find out more about PAWA. If you are a new member please come and say hello: we're very welcoming! There is always a committee member at Skill Share to answer any printmaking questions.

Next Skill Shares: 2 February & 2 March

PAWA visit to the Berndt Museum

As PAWA members we sometimes have opportunities to visit special collections and exhibitions. On 29 November around 20 PAWA members (in two groups) had the opportunity to visit the Berndt collection and see some of the Australian prints in their collection. A special thanks Berndt Museum staff and to Monique Bosshard-Curby for organising the visit.

Established in 1976, the Berndt Museum at the University of Western Australia (UWA) holds one of Australia's most important collections of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander art and cultural materials, supported by vast collections of photographs and sound recordings, as well as art and artefacts from Melanesia, Asia and South-East Asia. The museum manages the Ronald M and Catherine H Berndt Collections, as well as several hundred individual collections of objects that have been presented over the past 40 years.

The UWA Cultural Precinct oversees exhibition programs and collaborates on music, theatre, publishing and broader arts and cultural events that take place throughout the year at UWA. It manages the Lawrence Wilson Art Gallery and the three major cultural collections: The Berndt Museum, The Cruthers Collection of Women's Art and the University of Western Australia Art Collection, while overseeing the sculptures, murals and artworks installed around the grounds and in major buildings on the Crawley campus. See their website www.culturalprecinct.uwa.edu.au

Dwellingup Revisited

An exhibition by Willemina Foeken

3 March – 3 April

PAWA member Willemina Foeken is exhibiting oils, watercolours, pastels and relief prints of bush scenes, kangaroo paws and banksias in an exhibition titled “Dwellingup Revisited” in March.

Willemina stayed in Dwellingup while a student teacher at Pinjarrah High School and has recently returned to work on local landscapes. She is delighted to be able to exhibit at the beautiful Forest Discovery Centre Gallery.

Willemina is an experienced artist and art teacher, having exhibited in WA, NSW, the Netherlands and NY. She has taught at all levels from primary school to university and still teaches students in her own Southern River studio. Her approach is to immerse herself in the atmosphere of a place and to look, explore and analyse what’s before her until the essence of the subject starts to emerge. “I’m always looking and searching but the answers I find are never final; they are very elusive. That’s one of the challenging things about art that makes the pursuit of it eternally fascinating.”

Opening: 3 March, 2:00 – 4:00 The exhibition will run from March 3 till April 3.

Hours: 10:00 – 3:00 week days and 10:00 – 4:00 weekends .
